Hello Cap:

How are you and Mrs. Manley? Well I hope.

I have been looking around for ball-players up here for you. I told you before about the boy Charlie Thomas who goes to Boston University. I find that he has still one more year in school, but he may be able to play ball in our league. He's an infielder or outfielder. He is very fast, has a good arm and may hit. He's about my height but not as large. I have played with him and

3) ~~#~~ Remember Redlick the catcher from Cambridge you tried out in 1938? Well, he tells me that he's going with the Grays this year. He caught a few games for the Grays when they were up this way. He must have looked pretty good. I don't know his address.

There's another boy up here. He was up in Schenectady for a while in 1938. Perhaps they can tell you more about him than I can.

He's about 6'2" and weighs around 200 pounds. He graduated from West Va. State last June. He used to be quite a hitter, but as you know the pitching up he looked very good then. If you are interested in him I'm sending his address. (2)

Charles Thomas

Roxbury Mass.

The catcher I was telling you about is still in school in Texas. I can only tell you how he was the last time I saw him. He had an excellent arm and was a distance hitter, but quite consistent.

His address now as far as I know, according to his brother is:

Joseph Bracey
c/o Tillotson College
Austin, Texas.

4) here is quite different from that in the League.
He's a football player so I can't vouch for his throwing ability. He plays outfield.
His ~~name~~ name is

E. A. "Spike" Corbin

69 Winmaid St
Camb. Mass.

I haven't heard one single thing from my local draft board, and I'm almost sure I won't be called in the next three. That will be through the summer. Of course I can't say how many Uncle Sam will call. I'm in good condition as far as legs and wind are concerned.

Concerning these fellows, if you do decide to try them out, I think it would be a good idea to wait until after Spring training so as to save time and money

Sincerely

Francis Matthews.
